

ISLAM IN CHINA

M. RAFIQ KHAN

NATIONAL ACADEMY
DELHI

CONTENTS

	Page
Chapter I: ISLAM IN CHINESE HISTORY	1
Islam Comes to China
Islam Under Chinese Emperors : The T'ang Dynasty
Islam under the Sung Dynasty
Islam under the Mongols (Yuans)
Islam under the Ming Dynasty
Islam under the Manchu Dynasty
Islam After 1911 : During the Rule of The Nationalist Government
Chapter II: IMPORTANT ASPECTS OF ISLAM IN CHINA	18
The Muslim Population of China
Sects Among the Chinese the Muslims
Hui Hui
Mosques in China
Muslim Literature
Translation of the Quran
Journals and Newspapers
Religious Education Among the Chinese Muslims
Secular Education
Cheng Da College, Peking

Important Muslim Races
The Arab Hui Hui

Chapter III: HOW THE COMMUNISTS
SEIZED POWER IN CHINA 39

The Early Years of the Communist Party
First Alliance of the Communists and the Kuomintang

Second Alliance of the Communists
and the Kuomintang

Seizure of Power by Military Victory and Subversion

The Policy of the National Front

The "National Democratic Front":
Tactics of the Indian
Communists

Purges in the Chinese Communist Party

The Communist Occupation of Eastern Turkistan (Sinkiang)

Chapter IV: ARMED REVOLTS AGAINST
THE COMMUNIST REGIME 53

Usman Khan Batur

Ma Ying

Ma Hu-shan

The Story of Ma-chung

Muslim Resistance in Kansu

Chapter V: COMMUNIST ATTITUDE
TOWARDS ISLAM 72

Theoretical Position

Policy Towards Islam in the USSR

Muslim Population in the Soviet Union
Islam and the Russian Communists
The "Progressive Muslims"
The Process of Persecution
Muslim Resistance
A Lull in the Anti-Muslim Campaign
Soviet Post-War Islam : Official and Non-Official
Muslim Holy Places
Observance of Holy Days and Other Muslim Customs
Chinese Communist Policy Towards Muslims
Chinese Muslims and Religious Freedom
Communists Execute a Volte-Face
The Difference Between Promises and Their Fulfilment
"Show-piece" Mosques and Mullah

Chapter VI: ISLAM IN CHINA TODAY 99

The Machinery of Control
Relations Between the Hans and the Muslims
Local Nationalism
Cooperatives and Communes
Communism versus Religion
Resistance Continues
Abolition of Arabic Script

*Chapter VII: EASTERN TURKISTAN
AND CHINA* 122

Geography and Mineral Resources
Brief History

Population
Coup d'Etat in Eastern Turkistan
Communist Attempts to "Sinocize"
Eastern Turkistan:
Eastern Turkistan and Its Future-
Prospects
The Muslim World
The Soviet Union
Other Neighbouring Countries

CONCLUSION

137

ISLAM IN CHINA

M. KHAN

© National Academy 1963
Printed in India for
National Academy
9, Ansari Market, Darya Ganj, Delhi-6
at Navchetan Press Private Limited,
(Lessees of Arjun Press), Naya Bazar, Delhi-6

First Published 1963

The Author

M. Rafiq Khan is 34. He took his M. A. degree in Psychology from the Lucknow University in 1954.

Till recently he was Research Fellow of the Gandhi Peace Foundation, New Delhi. At present he is working as Joint-Director, Mewat Survey Project in Jamia Rural Institute, New Delhi.